As a child, before taking Virol, W. Coppin's life was despaired of. He is now a remarkable example of Virol's bone and muscle-building properties.

School Children need Virol

The remarkable influence of Virol on growing tissues is shown in the above case. Virol builds bone and muscle, restores waste, and strengthens the constitution. Virol gives School Children increased strength to resist illness and disease. Give your child Virol regularly, especially when epidemics are about.

Forty Million prescribed portions of Virol were given last year in over 3,000 Hospitals and Infant Clinics.

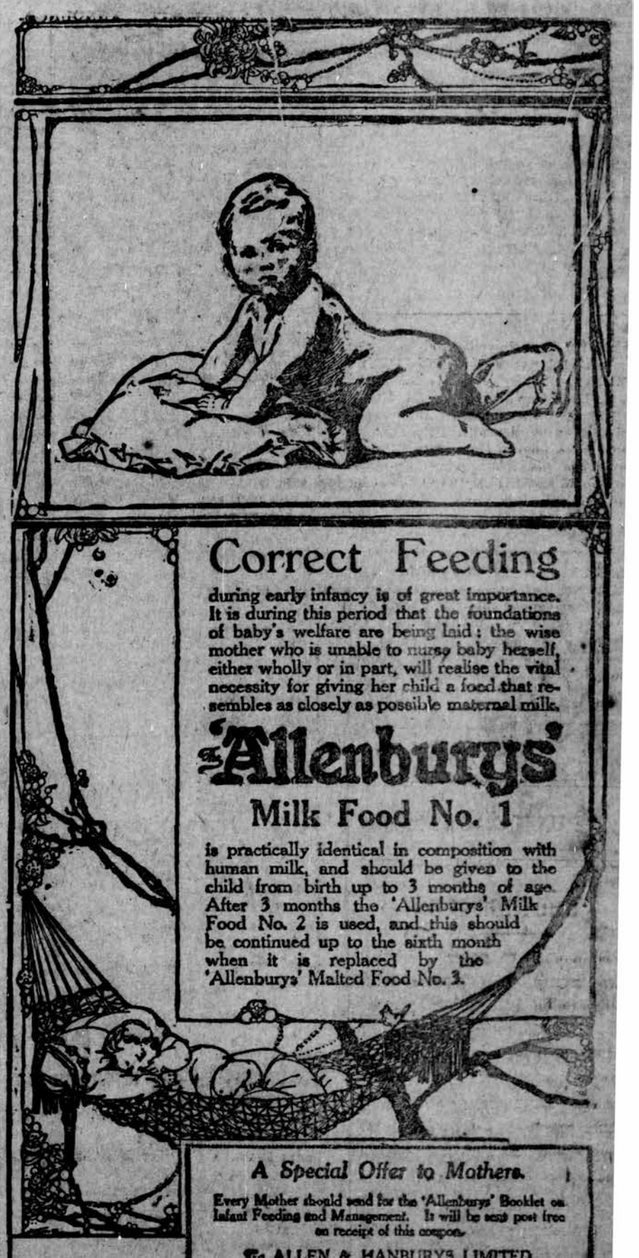
Leading Face Cream
now in new and Beautiful Jar

Icilma Cream, with a record of 25 years as the world's leading toilet cream, has shed its dress of 1900 and now appears in a delicately moulded green frosted jar of great beauty—a modern jar really worthy of the cream.

But the cream itself is unchanged in any detail whatsoever. It is unique in containing Icilma Water, a natural water from Algeria, famous for its beautifying properties. It is rich and foamy. Non-greasy. The perfect base for face powder.

Use Icilma Cream regularly if you would look your best. It protects, beautifies and stimulates the complexion. Very cooling and refreshing.

Icilma Cream



Correct Feeding

during early infancy is of great importance. It is during this period that the foundations of baby's welfare are being laid; the wise mother who is unable to nurse baby herself, either wholly or in part, will realise the vital necessity for giving her child a food that resembles as closely as possible maternal milk.

'Allenburys'

is practically identical in composition with human milk, and should be given to the child from birth up to 3 months of age. After 3 months the 'Allenburys' Milk Food No. 2 is used, and this should be continued up to the sixth month when it is replaced by the 'Allenburys' Malted Food No. 3.

Every Mother should send for the 'Allenburys' Booklet on Infant Feeding and Management. It will be sent post free on receipt of this coupon.

AWAY WITH TH

PERNICIOUS PR NOMINAT

MR. DUMASIA IN FI

ANIMATED DISCUSSION IN

The debate in the Corporation on Monday was very animated. Mr. Dumasia had brought forward a proposition for doing away with Government nominations to the Standing Committee, but in making out a case he side-tracked the whole issue and went in for Mr. Bole and complained that the present Police Commissioner was purposely excluded in favour of a Labour nominee. Mr. Bole on the other hand, said it was Mr. Dumasia who had introduced him to the Minister and got him nominated and read a letter from him in the Corporation which he said, had been written to him by Mr. Dumasia congratulating him on his nomination and asking him to vote for a particular person. Subsequent speakers speaking on the merits of the question congratulated the Minister, although some equally blamed him. The debate stands adjourned.

GUINEA WORMS AGAIN.

Dr. R. M. Mistry moved: That the attention of the Commissioner be invited to a number of guinea-worms cases occurring in our city and he be requested to report the causes which have led to the disease and the measures taken or proposed to be taken by him to prevent its spread.

He said the water from the wells ought to have been periodically examined by the Health Officer whom he had warned about the danger long ago. But the mischief was now done, and he asked that measures be taken at least now.

Dr. A. G. Vargas moved the following rider:—That the Commissioner be requested to warn the public against the use of water from wells opposite the Central Telegraph Office and the High Court and the wells in the city generally, for drinking purposes without being boiled. That the Commissioner be also requested to have an analytical and bacteriological examination made of the waters of the two wells referred to above and to report the result thereof to the Corporation.

He said the water in the different wells ought to have been properly examined both analytically and bacteriologically. He thought the authorities should have warned people not to drink waters from particulars wells which were infected.

Dr. S. S. Batliwalla also spoke and said the infection must have been spread by people who were themselves suffering from the disease.

THE COMMISSIONER REPLIES.

The Commissioner said all possible steps had already been taken for examining the water. Perhaps the infection must have taken place some 12 months ago, and they did not know from what source it had come. He agreed to examine the water from the wells in the city, but he did not think it was possible to examine all the wells in Bombay. The Municipality had, long ago, warned people not to drink well water. About the High Court well, he thought there was danger of infection from some other source also, and the Municipality was taking due precautions in this matter.

Mr. J. B. Boman-Behram moved an amendment that the wholematter be referred to the Medical Relief Committee for report in consultation with experts.

DOCTORS, NO GOOD.

Mr. K. F. Nariman seconding was surprised that the only good suggestion should have come not from doctors but from a layman. The whole discussion, he regretted, was purely academical, and irrelevant. It was quite possible, he said, that infection came from some other source which they had not found out yet.

Mr. B. T. Desai said the allopathic doctors had so far failed to find any remedy for the disease. If the doctor had discovered infection 12 months ago, why did they not take any steps to prevent the spread of the disease?

The motion as amended then was put to vote and carried.

NOMINATIONS TO STANDING COMMITTEE.

Mr. N. M. Dumasia moved:

That the President be requested to address Government to so amend the Municipal Act as to dispense with Government nominations on the Municipal Standing Committee and instead allow the Corporation to elect 4 more members on that Committee.

He said the question raised was one great importance, and he did not to impute any unworthy motives to body. He knew the Minister person and he had risen above sectarian and communal interests, and might be described a cosmopolitan gentleman. But he was testing that day against the pernicio principle and policy involved in nomin tions. Nominations, he said, were right in the beginning when local government was in its infancy, but now.

He had been following the debates the Corporation since the year 1890, reporter, and he had always found Commissioner of Police on the Stan

"PLIGHT OF KENYA INDIANS."

A REJOINDER.

To THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—Attention of all the Indians in Kenya is seriously drawn to an article named 'Plight of Kenya Indians" that appeared in your issue of 14th May 1926, under anonymous signature.

This article contains allegations, misrepresentations false statements, and uncalled for attacks on the leaders of Kenya which requires immediate refutal and as such I hasten to inform the Indian public through your agency that the above-mentioned article seems to be the work of somebody who has recently come to India from this country and has taken violent part in the local fight for entering the Legislative Council of this country.

Unfounded Allegations.

The allegations about the leaders are totally without any foundation whatsoever. There are very few workers that can be found available in this country as the chief work for those who come here is either to serve or to mind his own business affairs first. In such an atmosphere it is very difficult to find proper workers for the cause of Indians. Still, however, I am bound to say that those who are working at present for the cause of Indians are such as nobody can say anything against regarding their honesty. Mr. M A Desai has given the whole of his life for the cause of Indians here. Mr Shamuddin is a great worker for the cause of Indians and is an able man who has worked in the Congress of this country for many years, Mr. J. B. Pandya is a successful businessman and has got to conduct a flourishing business. Snaring his valuable time he devotes himself to public life to the best of his ability. Mr. R. S. Mehra is an eminent Barrister and has done very useful service to the cause of Indians in his own way. One fails to understand when one passes in review the work of so many men in the struggle of Indians to strive for their rights, how they can be accused of being "self-imposing and self-styled leaders." Whoever works for Indians here or in our own country has nothing personal to gain. They have to fight on two fronts, Government on the one hand and their own misguided and ignorant brethren like the writer of the article on the other. Putting all that aside, if one goes through the article carefully one finds that the whole article is the work of a man who is foiled in his attempts to become a leader himself. No body here cares a jot for what a dissatisfied person like him writes in India. It is, however, the duty of every sensible and responsible man to contradict the wrong thing. The writer of your article seems to be of a very doubtful moral courage as he has put himself under disguise and abused the leaders in general here. If he is brave let him come in the open and say what he has got to say about any body in particular and the public will at once see what sort of a man they have to deal with.

Bold Advocacy.

The writer of that article says: "The Kenya Indian leaders are self-imposing self-styled leaders who flatter Lord Delamere and the Government and are prepared to welcome insults and kicks from the Government to satisfy their own interests and as such are jeopardising the cause of Indians." No man with a grain of commonsense will dare honestly charge the leaders of this country with inviting and taking insults from the Government lying down. All those who have followed carefully the debates of the local Councils after the Indians took their seats there will testify to the truth that Indian members are the boldest in critising the Government and the Settler Party fearlessly. Every European member now feels that he cannot speak what he likes of Indians in an insulting way as he knows that there are men in the Councils who will not suffer his insults at all. In fact the tone of the Government members and the members of the Settler Party is considerably improved. Since the Congress decided on the advice of leaders of India to enter the Councils there has not been a single instance by which it can be proved that Indian leaders desire to sell their countrymen to Government at the best available price.

Recently Government has taken measures to bring in racial segregation in Mombasa by desiring to sell 21 residential plots to Europeans only. These very same leaders at once took up a strong attitude in the District Committee and presented a memorial to the Governor. This matter is

MR. KELKAR ON NATIONAL EDUCATION.

BY A MAHARASHTRIAN.

National Education has been a favourite tenet of Maharashtra Nationalists for years. Lokamanya Tilak shortly before his incarceration tried his level best to place the Samarth Vidyalaya on a sound footing but his arrest and conviction shortly after frustrated his cherished hopes. National Education formed part of the fourfold programme of 1905, Swadeshi, Swarajya, National Education and Boycott. Mr. Kelkar writing in 1920 confessed that Mahatmaji's Non-Co-operation was but an amplification of Lokamanya's fourfold programme. But Mr. Kelkar of 1926 is quite a different person. Anti-Gandhi puts in a nut-shell the attitude of Mr. Kelkar. Politically Mr. Kelkar is at the other pole unfurling the banner of beneficent opposition, whatever it may mean. Non-co-operation is anathema to him and he is prepared to co-operate with everybody and anybody if only non-co-operation can be put down. Is there, therefore, any wonder that Mr. Kelkar took an early opportunity to damn national education with faint praise the other day at the Anniversary celebrations of the Tilak Maha Vidyalaya? His subsequent explanation that explains nothing in no way improves his position.

Valuable Work.

The Vidyalaya commemorating the name of the greatest son of Maharashtra is doing valuable national work. It has made arrangements for vocational education as well as literary education It has got a good number of students, despite the fateful fascination Government Schools and Colleges still exercise on the public mind. People would expect everyone that venerates the memory of Lokamanya to help the institution in every way. But Mr. Kelkar, thought it fit to be a melancholy croaker on an auspicious occasion. He said practically and quite unauthorisedly that the conductors of the institution could at the most guarantee the existence of the institution for a year more and that it was for the students to remain in the institution or go out and that they should not blame afterwards the leaders if the institution came to be closed. Is the wish father to the thought? All along Mr. Kelkar has assumed this non-possumus and irresponsible attitude towards national education. If national education has not made headway in Maharashtra it is because of the shilly-shallying and discouraging attitude of men like Mr. Kelkar. He gave no message of hope to the students. As a strange contrast comes the message of Mahatmaji to the students of the Gujarat Mahavidyalaya "In strength of numbers is the delight of the mid The valiant of spirit glory in fighting alone. And you are all here to cultivate that valour of spirit. Be you few or many, this valour is the only true valour, all else is false. And the valour of the spirit cannot be achieved without Sacrifice, Determination, Faith and Humility."

National Education is altogether on a different plane from Government education. Apart from the patent educational defects in the Government system, foreign culture and foreign tongue there is the all comprehensive political control exercised over education in order to subserve the ends of Government. It is the rigid control exercised by Government, suppression of all independent thought and action and dead routine that first made the nation turn its thought to a free system of national education. Mr. Kelkar says that national schools are but temporary expediants whereas they are permanent factors of our national life. The assured provision of bread and butter which may have tempted some to resort to Government Schools and Colleges is getting more and more remote and so far as the more intelligent and advanced classes are concerned, Government have definitely banged their doors in their face. The distribution of Government patronage has now assumed a political aspect and Government desire to keep certain classes under their obligation by distributing to them loaves and fishes. The entire student world is being driven through a single literary avenue and in these days of unemployment, Government education possesses equally no bread value. The Responsivists that deride national education in as much as it does not guarantee maintenance may well realise that Government also cannot and do not guarantee any posts to students trained in their institutions.

The Spirit Behind.

The better way is to devise a different system of education that would provide different avenues and combine vocational and literary education, restricting the purely literary education only to the choice few, best qualified for it. It is idle to complain that national students do not get Government posts They never went in for them. They are meant for better things and they are in every way far abler to maintain themselves than the Government trained students who are no better than dead weight, if they are not employed.

But to return, Mr. Kelkar need not trouble his head regarding the future of Tilak Mahavidyalaya. No one will hold him responsible if anything happens to it for the students of the Vidyalaya have come to know where to place him exactly. It is unimaginable that Maharashtra will allow the Vidyalaya to disappear despite the prognostication of Mr. Kelkar. Students who take up national education do so with a full sense of their responsibility. National institutions are a great necessity in the present political conditions of India. So long as the system is not changed the provision of an Indian Minister has in no way changed the situation or rather has intensified the evil in one way. What the foreigner was doing hitherto is being done by our own men now. Every Maharashtrian wishes all success to the Tilak Mahavidyalaya under the able guidance of Acharya Limaye and Kulavati Vaidya and Professor Shivaramapant Paranjape and other trusted and tried friends of national education.

Notes of the Day.

Hand-Spinning in Schools.

It is very gratifying to note that a number of Local Bodies have begun to encourage the khaddar movement either by removing or reducing the octroi on khaddar or by introducing hand-spinning into their schools. The efforts of many of the District Boards of Behar and Orissa, of the Allahabad Municipality and more recently of the Poona Municipality are said to have been encouraging. The difficulty experienced by many schools is that of accommodating a sufficiently large number of charkhas to engage a whole class. This difficulty can be entirely got over by the use of the "takli" which has the additional merit of being extremely cheap. The many successful experiments made by little children with the "takli" at the Satyagrahashram encourage the hope that it will be more widely used by children in schools.

The Ban in Madras.

There seem to be, however, some eccentric individuals in Madras, who have not yet shaken off their prejudice aganst the charkha. Some months ago a Madras Inspectress of Education issued a curious order forbidding the Brahmin girls in certain schools to spin. The order is calculated, though not intended, to foster caste prejudices. Now comes the news of an equally surprising notification, this time by the Madras Education Minister himself to the effect that spinning by itself without provision for weaving should not form a subject for instruction in elementary schools. There is neither rhyme nor reason in the order. Spinning in lower classes could have easily led up to weaving in secondary schools. It is clear the Minister wants to put a ban on spinning as he knows that weaving is costly and too exacting for the elementary schools. The public of Madras should see to it that the perverse order is withdrawn forthwith.

B. B. and C. I. Railway Grievances.

The lot of the employees of the B.B. and C. I. Railway seems to be a hard one, to judge from a circular letter issued by their Association, They generally do not have the benefit of Sundays, the letter says, and except in offices, they generally have to work very hard for not less than 12 hours at a stretch. Their demand for 8 hours' duty seems to have been only a cry in the wilderness. After a survey of their conditions of work the letter sums up their position thus: "Long hours, extremely heavy work, ever-increasing risks and responsibilities of service, want of necessary rest, inadequate pay, and on the top of all this, heavy fines, indiscriminate reductions in pay, summary dismissals, occasional reductions of staff under pretext of slack season, want of adequate relieving staff, consequent hardship of getting leave when really wanted, and the unrestricted powers and their autocratic exercise by the District officers are the outstanding features of the B.B. and C.I. Railway service today." The many specific grievances reported in the letter and referring to various departments show that the above charges are not baseless

Autocracy.

Mr. Chhotubhai Desai, late deputy station master, Andheri, was dismissed summarily for the simple reason that in his capacity as Hon. President of the Bombay Branch of the Employees' Association, he convened a meeting on Railway grounds, though he did not attend it, being on duty. Mr. Mohanlal Patel, late chief clerk D.T.S. Bulsar, was dismissed because he attended a similar meeting. Again, the scale of booking clerks on certain stations was reduced from Rs 70 to Rs. 55 and booking clerks at these stations already drawing Rs. 70 have had their salaries compulsorily reduced to Rs. 55. A recent development is compelling a large number of men to go on leave for an indefinite period during the "slack season". This novel method of effecting economy—presumably it does not affect high salaried officers—is unheared of in any other public service. The Railway authorities, in justice to themselves and the employees concerned, will do well to make searching inquiries into all the grievances set forth by the Employees' Association in its circular letter.

Money in Poetry.

There is no money in poetry is the common lament of our versifiers who look with envy upon the ease with which the man behind the counter makes his pile. A correspondent writes to us saying that in Kathiawar at least there is some money in poetry, even if the latter is sometimes only rhymed prose. He says the "charans" or bards do not have a bad time of it at Court functions and weddings in rich families. Our information is that they do not obtain now the patronage they deserve. These oral transmitters of folk history and folk-lore certainly deserve better encouragement.

SIR. A. FROOM'S NOMINATION.

MR. HAJI'S CHALLENGE

SIR. L. KERSHAW FLOORED DOWN.

SPECIAL TO "THE CHRONICLE."

PARIS, June 27.

Mr. Haji, the representative of the Indian Chambers "en route" to London at the end of the Geneva Labour Conference, when interviewed expressed satisfaction at the result of the Geneva mission regarding the protests against the nomination of the Employers' Delegate.

The Government's position that the European Chambers are fully representative of India is untenable in view of the fact placed by Mr. Haji before the Credentials Committee. Elaborate statements based upon the census, official and recognised publications, provide a variety of tests, proving conclusively the preponderence of Indian industrial interests.

TESTS OF REPRESENTATION.

Taking ownership of factories first, over 4,800 are owned by Indians against 1,900 owned by the Europeans. Regarding management of factories, there are 5,600 Indian managers, while the European managers are only 2,000. Thirdly, the Indian capital in Indian industries exceeds 100 crores against only 46 crores of European capital.

INDIAN PREPONDERENCE.

Finally, this preponderence of Indian interests was naturally reflected in the membership of the Chambers. While the figure of the membership of the European Chambers nominating the delegates to the Geneva Conferences reaches barely 400 that of the Indian organisations is 1,000. In spite of all these facts it is rather strange that the Credentials Committee was not convinced that the European Chambers could, in no way, be regarded as representative of the Indian industrial organisations.

Another point made by the Government Delegate was that the Indian Shipping carried only two per cent. of the coastal and [illegible] per cent. of the foreign trade of India, the balance being represented by the European Chambers, which are thus representative of the major portion of the shipping in India available. In reply, it was stated that the percentage figures indicated all Indian shipping, the remainder being non-Indian mostly registered in Great Britain which cannot have any moral or material claim to speak in the name of India. The Indian shipping, though small, provides no justification for the Indian Government to refuse to recognise the national mercantile marine.

It was next argued, on behalf of the Government, that Indian law applied to non-Indian ships, and, therefore, Government must recognise them. In reply it was stated that only Coastal Articles of Agreement were governed by the Indian law, the rest of the applicable law being mostly the law of the country of registration.

INCOME-TAX ANOMALY.

As regards the income-tax the non-Indian shipping companies had evaded payment until five years ago, on the ground that their ships were not on the Indian register.

Thus continued for one hour and half an interesting discussion before the Credentials Committee between Sir L. Kershaw and Sir Arthur Froom on the one hand, and Mr. Haji on the other. Its effects on the Committee, judged by the various admissions were favourable to Indian sentiments made by the Committee in the report which deems it expedient to validate the credentials of Sir A. Froom.

MALICIOUS PROPAGANDA.

In the discussion before the Committee the Indian Government Delegate seems to have gone to the length of saying that Indian protests were not genuine and that they were political, being connected with the agitation for the reservation of coastal trade. Mr. Haji challenged Sir L. Kershaw to point out a single statement in all the protests which was political in nature. He assured the Committee that the protests were based fully on the right of the Indian associations to representation at the International Conferences.

Upon this position being accepted by the Committee, Sir L. Kershaw, after preliminary explanations which were not accepted, finally withdrew the statement.

CALCUTTA, June 27.

In the course of an appeal to the public, the Secretary of the Bengal Provincial Congress Committee, states that during the Deshbandhu week they have settled that great endeavours should be made to enlist new Congress members and collect funds.

Referring to the tension of feelings among the Hindus and the Muslims and the difference of opinion among the Congress workers in Bengal, he feels that this opportunity should be utilised to proceed hand in hand, forgetting all their differences till they reached their goal.

Finally he appeals to all men and women to fulfil the programme and contribute, at least, one day's income to the Congress fund.—Free Press.

der the auspices of the Women's In- Association, the Arya Mahila Samaj the Beni-Israel Stree Mandal, a well ded public meeting of the women of bay was held at the Marwari Vidyalaya Monday evening to ask for the admission women in the Provincial and Indian Le- atures and the Council of State. TRIBUTE TO M

FRIENDLY FUNCTION OF INDIA SOCI

The Servants of India Society arranged on Sunday last a friendly function at their Home in Girgaon to give a hearty 'send off' to Mr. Madan, Registrar of Co-operative Societies, Bombay Presidency, who has left the department to join his new appointment as Joint Secretary of the Royal Commission on Agriculture.

Mr. Devadhar who occupied the chair on this occasion said that the Servants of India Society had the uplift of the masses, as one of the items of the programme of their work in a true national spirit and so they directed their activities in the channels of co-operative work from the very beginning because the Co-operative movement was a nation-building activity. Mr. Madan, the chairman continued, was a very popular officer and helped the movement in the right spirit. The Society was sorry to know that he was leaving the department although they knew that he would return to this Presidency with much wider and riper experience and extensive knowledge of Co-operative and Agricultural problems.

After Mr. C. S. Deole and several others had spoken, Mr. N. M. Joshi said that the personality of the Registrar was a very important factor in the movement and all progress depended more or less on him. He paid a high compliment to Mr. Madan and his predecessors who were helpful to him in organising special types of societies for the mill-hands.

Mr. Samant Nanji Marwadi spoke eloquently in Gujerati of Mr. Madan's influence in keeping going on the Debt Redemption Committee Societies which were meant for the depressed classes, and Mrs. Maclean paid a tribute to Mr. Madan on behalf of the women who were present on the occasion.

Mr. Madan said that he felt greatly honoured by the day's function. It was in the fitness of things, he continued, that the co-operative movement should be a proper field for the Servants of India Society who were all engaged in doing work for the all-round progress of the country. He found a great friend in the Society whose members were eminent co-operatoxs, especially, Mr. Devadhar whose activities were exercising beneficent influence on the movement in other provinces. He felt deeply indebted to them for their kindness and help.

not yet completely settled and it remains to be seen what Government will do. However one thing can be seen from this attitude of the Indian leaders. It is that they are not of the sort your contributor has tried to paint them as having failed miserably in the attempt. If one goes to find the motive which has made the writer to write in the fashion he has done, the only thing that can suggest itself to one would be that the writer has been actuated by some personal mishap and that in order to give satisfaction to his troubled mind he has tried this means of abusing Indian leaders here from far concealed behind the curtain of a false name.

I assure your readers that everybody here condemns this writer of misleading and untrue statements. I leave this subject now and leave the unhappy and miserable man to have the satisfaction of seeing that every honest man will condemn him outright.

Mombasa Town-Planning Ssheme.

In the recent session of the Legislative Council Government have introduced the bill for the above scheme in which they have proposed and decided to take 20 per cent. of the land from any person part of the land or building comes under the abovementioned scheme. The Indian and Arab landholder class strongly opposed this and sent wires etc. to the Government who, however, did not do any thing in the matter. The Hon. Mr. Pandya moved a resolution to the effect that no land should be taken without compensation. He made a very able and strongly reasoned speech in its support but the motion was lost, only four Indian members voting in its favour. All the Europeans opposed the motion as they had no land to loose on the Island of Mombasa. This is nothing but open robbery by the Government of Kenya and even the Local European Press has pronounced against the government in this matter and has whole-heartedly supported Mr. Pandya. Government, however, do not desire to alter their views in the matter as if they do so they will have to make financial provisions which at present they are not in a position to do for this particular scheme.

Residential Plots.

Nothing further has been done in this matter, by the Government but I think Indian leaders and prominent men should not take this matter light-heartedly. Those members of the Council who are taking a keen interest in this question should press the Government of India to state what step they are going to take in this matter and the newspapers also should take up this matter seriously and write strongly about it. It seems from the papers which come here from India that barring some prints nobody has noted anything about such a serious matter to every Indian here and in India. God forbid that we should only awake when every thing is settled against us.—Yours, etc.

"TRAITOR TO HIS COUNTRY."

SEPARATISTS DENOUNCED

DR. KITCHLEW'S PLEA FOR COMMUNAL UNITY.

CALCUTTA, June 27.

Speaking at a mass meeting, Dr. Saifuddin Kitchlew after prefacing that the political views expressed by him were his own and had nothing to do with the Tanzim organisation, explained the three purposes of his present tour, viz., to see things as they are in the country, to bring about the inter-communal unity, and to organise the Tanzim.

SLAVERY UNBEARABLE.

Swaraj, he said, was wanted by everybody. Neither Hindu nor Moslem religion tolerated slavery for a single minute. The Indian Moslems should further remember that their slavery tendered also to enfetter their Moslem brothers abroad. Therefore there Moslem who did not wish unity with the Hindu, which was essential for Swaraj, is a traitor to his country and to his religion. He wanted both the Hindu and the Moslem to stand firm on their own religion and work together for the common cause.

CAUSE OF TENSION.

The real cause of the present disunion was, according to his opinion, political and not religious. He appealed to the Hindus to carry on their Suddhi and Sangathan movement as a constructive social programme without any political colouring. Sangathan was not new, and Moslems never found fault with it, if it was carried on in the proper spirit. Mahatmaji's method of conciliation greatly diminished cow-killing, while the present method, as Pandit Malaviya also admitted, greatly increased it. Similarly, if by Suddhi, it is intended to increase the number of the Hindus as a political move, every Moslem would oppose it. His Tanzim was a purely social movement. On the other hand, the speaker exhorted the Moslems not to object to these movements when carried on in the proper spirit. The Hindus also had the right of conversion, just as the Moslems had. They again should feel glad that the Hindus were removing untouchability and supporting widow re-marriage, etc., which indicated a triumph of Islamic doctrines. Each community should help the other in its efforts at social regeneration.

The speaker then severely condemned the Moslems who had defiled Hindu temples and had thereby degraded Islam. The Hindus and Moslems who were desecrating the places of worship of each other must be made to think that they would hinder the cause of their religion thereby.—A. P.

DR. KITCHLEW AT DINAJPUR

DINAJPUR, June 28.

Dr. Kitchlew arrived here and was presented with addresses of welcome by several Mahomedan Associations. In his reply he urged both communities to settle their differences without asking a third party to do it for them. Personally he thought that cow-killing and music before mosques were minor questions and could very well be settled amicably.—A. P.

REGULATION OF PROCESSIONS

NEW POLICE ORDER IN LUCKNOW.

LUCKNOW, June 28.

Strict precautionary measures by the authorities against communal conflict continue here. To-day the Superintendent of Police has issued a notification for regulation of assemblies and processions.

It states that any person or persons wishing to take out processions on public roads, streets or thoroughfares should notify to the Superintendent of Police at least five days before the date of such procession. Such applications should specify: (1) The route and time of the procession; (2) whether it will be accompanied by music or not, and (3) probable number of men who are expected to take part in it. Such application will be dealt with as laid down under Section 30 of the Police Act. The public is warned that failure to give sufficient notice may result in permission being withdrawn.—Free Press.

...Japanese Social Affairs Bureau has ...that in its opinion the most urgent... ...sary reform in Japan is that this ...tion should be put into practical ...e without delay. I think of that country which has worse conditions than Japan and which is encouraged to do nothing by the fact that Japan, that highly organised, highly efficient country, is delaying the operation of these Conventions.

I am one of those who feel a sense of personal responsibility in this matter because in 1923 I went all over my country praising ... I said "Here is a country with tremendous obstacles to overcome and she is setting to work to overcome them." I have praised India in the same way and I feel very relieved to find that India has not let me down, and now I sincerely appeal to Japan not to let me down. I want to go back and say "Yes, Japan is also toeing the line and Japan is determined to come into line to help to save the lives"—because that is what it means—"of large masses of women who in the past have been the most exploited sections of the labour movement."

RAPID PROGRESS OF INDIA.

Mr. Atul Chatterjee (India)—I should like to take the opportunity in addressing you to thank Miss Bondfield for the very kind references that she has made to my Government and to my people in regard to the progress of social legislation in my country. We deeply appreciate the kind references which she has made, and we hope that all members of this Conference will send a message of encouragement to the Indian Government and the Indian Legislature in the task which they have undertaken, and in which, as has been admitted by all speakers, very satisfactory progress has already been made.

I wish to refer to a few points which have been mentioned by my colleague, Mr. Lajpat Rai, in reference to conditions in India. I wish to congratulate him on the ... ... you will agree with me in thinking that when the cause of Indian workers is championed by a man like Mr. Lajpat Rai, there is every hope of satisfactory progress being made in the conditions of Indian workers. I am therefore rather surprised to find that my friend observed that there has been very slow progress in social legislation in India, and he has taken the Indian Government to task for this fact. I think that anyone who has perused the lucid and most informative Reports of the Director which have been presented to this Conference year after year cannot fail to have noticed the very rapid progress which has been made in social legislation in India during the last five years.

It is therefore surprising to find that a member who has taken his part during the last twelve months in moulding social legislation in India, should come to this Conference and say that progress has been slow or unsatisfactory. Indeed, I think that my honourable friend, Mr. Lajpat Rai, has done very much less than justice to the Indian Legislature, when he says that the entire credit for this legislation in India is due to the Government and not to the Legislature. I have not the honour to belong to that Legislature at the present moment, but I was intimately concerned with the progress of this legislation during the previous five years, and I think everybody will admit that all sections of that Legislature have been most active in the promotion of social legislation, and that almost the entire credit is due to the members of the Indan Legislature, who are mostly Indians by birth and nationality.

I wish also to correct one slight mistake which my friend Mr. Lajpat Rai made. He referred to underground work of children in India. If I understood him correctly, the implication was that children were still employed on underground work in Indian mines. I wish to assure this Conference that no such thing exists in India. No children are allowed to go underground.

"NO FORCED LABOUR IN INDIA."

My friend has also referred to the conditions in regard to forced labour in India. Those of you who were present at the last Conference in 1925 will remember that this subject was discussed on that occasion also, at that time I made a distinct statement that there was no forced labour in any part of British India, except with the sanction of the law, and where the law does permit it, it is only for the sake of public works such as canals and large irrigation works which might be damaged unless the whole countryside were summoned in order to prevent such damage by sudden cataclysms of nature. Mr. Lajpat Rai has not given a single instance of any kind of forced labour in any part of British India, and I regret very much that he should have again raised this question.

As regards the Indian States, the Conference is aware that the representatives who come here from India do not represent the Indian States. The question of forced labour has been discussed more than once in the Assembly of the League of Nations, and I have no doubt that it will be considered there again. The ruling Prince from India who attends the Assembly of the League of Nations will know how to deal with this charge. It is not necessary for me to go into the question of forced labour in Indian States.

A great deal of attention has been devoted, during our discussions of the last three days, to the ratification of the Hours Convention passed at Washington. The Director has given good deas of attention to the proceedings of the London Conference held in March last. Eight countries of chief industrial importance are recognised in the Labour Conference. Of these countries five belong to Europe and the Government representatives of these five countries met in London in March last to discuss how or when it would be possible to ratify the

AUCTION SALE OF TODDY SHOPS.

BETTER PRICES REALISED THAN LAST YEAR

The Sir Cowasji Jehangir ... on Monday was more crowded than is ... the case when learned discourses ar... delivered by celebrated savants. There was an auction sale of toddy licenses. The crowd was very miscellaneous almost wholly composed of Hindus. There were old men and women with young children in their laps, young men and women—all sellers of toddy, in one way or another. They had come there to try their luck and see if they could secure a license for selling drink in the Town and Island of Bombay. The City of Bombay
